Dear Editor-In-Chief:

Kisserup International Trade Roots Inc. in Nova Scotia, Canada is an international consulting company that has had the pleasure of doing business in the Jamaica over the last year. At first, Kisserup took part in a Canada-Caribbean Trade Mission in 2008 in Jamaica, which led to numerous follow-up visits and the opportunity for Kisserup to work with local partners like PSOJ and UWI Consulting Ltd.

During every visit, everyone at Kisserup found the Jamaican people warm and inviting. We treasure our working relationships in Jamaica and find them very rewarding and satisfying. Whether it is a drive through the beautiful Jamaican countryside, conducting business meetings or visiting local restaurants for an evening meal, we find everyone to be friendly and genuinely happy to see us. We were always made to feel safe, secure and welcome to the area.

As a Canadian company that has worked on projects in more than forty (40) countries, recent events have not deterred our commitment and determination to strengthen our ties and commitment to the Jamaican community. We look forward to returning and continuing our working relationship in Jamaica.

Yours truly,

Pernille Fischer Boulter
