Kisserup and Zamorano MOU to strengthen SME's and facilitate international trade in Honduras

January 15, 2016: Kisserup International Trade Roots (Kisserup) and Pan-American Agricultural School (Zamorano) have signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) to collaborate in the creation of development projects in Small and Medium- Sized Enterprise (SME) capacity building and international trade in Honduras.

The purpose of this MOU between Kisserup and Zamorano is to establish the basis for successfully developing and carrying out funded development projects in Honduras.

The MOU includes a mutual agreement where Kisserup and Zamorano agree to follow strict values and guidelines that protect labour and human rights, as well as, environmental sustainability while developing and executing such projects.

Zamorano is a nonprofit international university that aims to strengthen and develop the agriculture, economic and sustainable environment through the academics and research. Founded in 1942, established in the United States and operating in Honduras, Zamorano has students graduate from 29 countries who join the development of the Americas and the Americas and the world.

Kisserup, founded in 1998, has a head office in Halifax, Canada and an office in Copenhagen, Denmark, is an international trade consultancy firm that specializes in international development projects in over 95 countries and across 25 sectors in the areas of SME capacity building and international trade.
