ACP CORNER: PROFILES OF OUTSTANDING ACP ENTREPRENEURS

Wow, I Am Alive

George Jones, keyboard player for the world-famous band Square One, was surprised to learn he had colon cancer early in 2010. After a successful surgery, George then surprised medical staff with his remarkable recovery. A great attitude and his refusal to give in to depression and anger made his recovery nothing short of amazing. After a trying year in recovery, George's experience with cancer made him want to reach out to others, so he founded the George W. Jones WOW Foundation to help pay medical expenses and educate the public. The WOW Foundation "aims to make a positive difference in the lives of people through the promotion of healthy diet and lifestyles and the encouragement of early medical screening for all chronic diseases". If you would like to know more or have George as a motivational guest speaker, he can be reached at gjwshush@gmail.com or (954) 302-3001.
